

CHAPTER 9 – TELL GOES ON STAGE

He simply had enough. Half of the people from the Helvetian tribe worshipped him as a freedom fighter, the other half thought he was a mere creation of his biographer Schiller. Some (and not few) Austriaker considered him a terrorist and practically everyone believed in the apple shot. He was nothing other than a reporter. Around 1280 the former international boss of the Middle Age Guardian sent him to the mountains: „Go and TELL us something about the alpine cultures“. From then on he signed off his reports as TELL and he became known as TELL. This is why nobody wanted to believe that he was equally surprised as Gessler himself was by the arrow in Gessler's chest. He withdrew and from then on worked on new reporting opportunities. Sensors and the Internet should be able to replace the endangered reporters in the future. After the film „MISSION ZEROWATERLOSS“, 730 solar orbits after the apple shot, TELL decides to assist the WATERKNIGHTS with his inventions TELL sensor and TELL app in the battle against the WATERGESSLERS. It is no accident, therefore, that in 2021 Helvetian time TELL together with the WATERKNIGHTS implements ZEROWATERLOSS pilot projects in Helvetia. The ZEROWATERLOSS foundation supports them and assumes a portion of the project costs.
